From the Desk of the President

At the time of this writing I am a patient in the South Side Hospital. That can't be any more of a surprise to you than it was to me. But I went under the surgeon's knife and I must say that although it was a necessary procedure and I am very glad to be still alive, it is not an experience that I would be interested in going through again for a long, long time.

Yet, on the other hand, it was an experience that I am glad I had, for I learned two very important lessons that can only come through personal experience.

First, having been a patient, I will be a better doctor, for I know now the fears and frustrations that the patient feels, and the terrifying feeling of utter helplessness that comes sometimes when you think no one understands how badly you feel.

Second, I will be a better husband and father, for the Hospital allows you time to think — to take stock of yourself — and to see yourself in true perspective.

Nothing will ever mean more to me than my wife's bedside help and devotion. She was there when I hurt, and when I cried, and when I finally smiled. Such devotion as this deserves more than the privilege of packing my lunch so I can work late at the office.

So I will be a better doctor and a better husband, and if after while I should forget — somebody please threaten me with a knife.

Editorial

Recently an editorial appeared in the AMA News advocating the creation of County Medical Society Review Committees(1). The purpose of such a committee is to render an opinion as to the justification of a physician's fee that is being questioned by the patient's third party carrier.

Apparently the insurance companies are avid readers of the AMA News, for our Medical Society has received requests to form a committee of this nature. The problem has been discussed at length by Council and an Ad Hoc Committee of Council members appointed to study the problem.

The committee studied the problem and decided that a review committee should be appointed. The Council was so advised and voted in the affirmative. The matter is to be brought before the Society for its opinion.

Those who oppose the establishment of such a committee feel that this would lead to third party regulation of medical fees and interfere with the doctor-patient relationship and the fee-for-service type of medical practice. In other words, this would be one more source of control of medical practice by non-medical people.

We believe that such fears are not justified. The AMA has approved this type of committee and has formulated guidelines for establishing them(2). It is pointed out in these guidelines that a review committee should not have disciplinary authority, it should have only an advisory role. It can only determine if a fee is realistic for the services performed.

When a physician speaks of his "usual and customary fee", it is not the same as an insurance company offering to pay a fee that is usual and customary. The physician's fee may certainly vary above and below the average, whereas the insurance company is interested in the average fee. If a review committee states an opinion, it will help the third party to determine if the fee is average, and will be of benefit to the physician in that he will see his fee in relation to the average. What the physician ultimately charges is between him and his patient. What the third party pays is between it and the patient.

We feel that it is encouraging that third parties involved in the financing of medical care should come to us for advice, rather than somewhere else. Furthermore, we believe that if we do not give advice freely and in good faith, they will go elsewhere. If they do, this is when the non-medical control over medicine will come.

PAMPHLETS WIDELY DISTRIBUTED

As a result of the recent notice in "PR Doctor," AMA public relations publication, concerning the two Mahoning County Medical Society pamphlets, requests for copies have been pouring into the Medical Society office. A number of these are from state associations. One such letter was received from the Puerto Rico Medical Association.

The two pamphlets, prepared by Dr. Frank Gelbman for the council, are "Closing the Physician's Office," and "Arranging the Physician's Personal and Office Records." Both are considered to be extremely valuable.

A copy of each was sent to every physician's office. However, anyone unable to find his copies may have additional copies by calling the Medical Society office.

REMINISCENCES OF 50 YEARS AGO

By S. Q. Laypius

The "River Bend Area" is a bare place now. The crowded decrepit houses, the old hovels, the swarming human beings are all gone. Anything might have happened there and often did. Gangland shootings, robbery, rape, and mugging were common.

Yet life went on. There were marriages, births, celebrations and living as well as dying. Most of the people were poor and more or less honest and some were proud.

In 1918 many of our doctors were in France and those left at home were overworked. People used to call the hospital at night and plead for a doctor. There were four internes at the Youngstown Hospital then and very little spare time but the callers offered money. So we internes got a bag and outfitted it with necessary supplies and when calls came in the intern who was not on duty would go out and make a call and augment his stipend of $10.00 a month provided by the hospital for "tobacco money."

One night there was an urgent call for a woman in labor and a doctor not to be found. Prenatal care was unheard of then, Parturient women called the doctor when labor started. If doctor number one was not available they called another. In this case no doctor was available. So they called the hospital.

Would they send a doctor? Old S. Q. was young then and eager. Yes, he would come but he had no transportation. The anxious father said he would come for the doctor.

He arrived soon at the hospital door with a horse and wagon. He was a rag man. Maybe you don't know what a rag man was.

In the early 1900's there were many hucksters who combed the streets shouting their wares. Their cries were typical. The vegetable men cried, "Fresh vegetables and melons." The rag man shouted, "Rags, Rag, Old Iron", only it sounded like "Wrecks, Wrecks, oldarn." They would buy your old stove or mattress for a few cents. Now you have to pay to have them hauled away.

This rag man was from the River Bend Area and he was most anxious to get back there quick with a doctor. I climbed onto the front seat of the spring wagon clutching the Bag and we started out to Oak Hill Avenue with the driver using the whip freely.

Oak Hill Avenue is steep and as we turned down the hill the poor old horse tripped and fell down.

A huckster's wagon had no dashboard to speak of, so we were both precipitated on top of the horse by the abrupt stop. There was considerable confusion, swearing, cursing and appeals to the Deity.

We picked ourselves up, retrieved the precious Bag and helped the horse to his feet. We proceeded much more carefully to a delapidated house on Caldwell Street in time to deliver a baby boy.

Afterward, the grateful rag man brought me back to the hospital as dawn was breaking, in time for a good breakfast and another day of hospital rounds, histories and physicals, but $25.00 richer.

That is the way it was in 1918.

ROSS WALES WINS OLYMPIC MEDAL

Ross Wales, son of Dr. and Mrs. Craig Wales, came through in the Olympic games at Mexico to win a bronze medal for the United States. Wales was part of the American team that finished 1-2-3 in the 100-meter butterfly swim event. Ross' time was 57.2 seconds. The winner, Doug Russell tied the Olympic record of 55.9. Second place went to Mark Spitz.

S. Q. LAPIUS OBSERVES:

Now Hear This: The program for the November meeting is most attractive. The bar at the Mural Room opens at 6:00 P.M. so be there early and greet your friends. After the social hour, have a good dinner and then listen to an outstanding authority on Diabetes. No matter what your specialty is, Diabetes plays an important part in it.

Then you can vote on the candidates selected by the nominating committee for offices in the Society. Everybody knows that the Society is run by a clique and the nominations by the insiders are a foregone conclusion, except that sometimes they are upset by other devoted members.

If you wish to become a member of the clique just let Howard Rempes or Robert Fisher know you would like to get in there and work on a Committee. There is room for you.

Ken Camp looked at the small crowd at the October meeting and said "This is a disgrace! The doctors who speak for Medicine in our county don't even come out for the meetings!"

I know why. You are tired and overworked. You don't have to come unless you wish. So you say, "To Heck with it, I need rest."

Yes, you need rest but you need to attend the meetings. Beside that the Society needs you there.

When you do not appear at the meetings it is a sign of weakness. It means you can't take it. It means you are soft and prefer comfort to duty.

My recommendation is that you come to the meeting and rest and relax there. You will feel better and have the satisfaction of an evening well spent.

Is it Time to Renew Your Driver's License ?

It's almost as if you were there to give an injection of penicillin

V-Cillin K[®], Pediatric dependable oral penicillin therapy Potassium Phenoxymethyl Penicillin

Description: V-Cillin K, the potassium salt of V-Cillin[®] (phenoxymethyl penicillin, Lilly), combines acid stability with immediate solubility and rapid absorption. Higher, more rapid serum levels are obtained than with equal oral doses of penicillin G.

Indications: Streptococcus, pneumococcus, and gonococcus infections; infections caused by sensitive strains of staphylococci; prophylaxis of streptococcus infections in patients with a history of rheumatic fever, and prevention of bacterial endocarditis after tonsillectomy and tooth extraction in patients with a history of rheumatic fever or congenital heart disease.

Contraindication: Penicillin hypersensitivity.

Warnings: In rare instances, penicillin may cause acute anaphylaxis which may prove fatal unless promptly controlled. This type of reaction appears more frequently in patients with a history of sensitivity reactions to penicillin or with bronchial asthma or other allergies. Resuscitative drugs should be readily available. These include epinephrine and pressor drugs (as well as oxygen for inhalation) for immediate allergic manifestations and antihistamines and corticosteroids for delayed effects.

Precautions: Use cautiously, if at all, in a patient with a strongly positive history of allergy.

In prolonged therapy with penicillin, and particularly with high parenteral dosage schedules, frequent evaluation of the renal and hematopoietic systems is recommended.

In suspected staphylococcus infections, proper laboratory studies (including sensitivity tests) should be performed.

The use of penicillin may be associated with the overgrowth of penicillin-insensitive organisms. In such cases, discontinue administration and take appropriate measures.

Adverse Reactions: Although serious allergic reactions are much less common with oral penicillin than with intramuscular forms, manifestations of penicillin allergy may occur.

Penicillin is a substance of low toxicity, but it possesses a significant index of sensitization. The following hypersensitivity reactions have been reported: skin rashes ranging from maculopapular eruptions to exfoliative dermatitis; urticaria; and reactions resembling serum sickness, including chills, fever, edema, arthralgia, and prostration. Severe and often fatal anaphylaxis has occurred (see Warnings). Hemolytic anemia, leukopenia, thrombocytopenia, and nephropathy are rarely observed side-effects and are usually associated with high parenteral dosage.

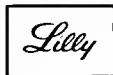

Administration and Dosage: Usual dosage range, 125 mg. (200,000 units) three times a day to 500 mg. (800,000 units) every four hours. For infants, 50 mg. per Kg. per day divided into three doses.

See package literature for detailed dosage instructions for prophylaxis of streptococcus infections, surgery, gonorrhea, and severe infections.

How Supplied: Tablets V-Cillin K[®] (Potassium Phenoxymethyl Penicillin Tablets, U.S.P.), 125 mg. (200,000 units), 250 mg. (400,000 units), and 500 mg. (800,000 units).

V-Cillin K[®] (potassium phenoxymethyl penicillin, Lilly), Pediatric, for Oral Solution, 125 mg. (200,000 units) and 250 mg. (400,000 units) per 5 cc. of solution (approximately one teaspoonful). [042567A] 800198

DIABETES WEEK NOVEMBER 17-23

The annual Diabetes Detection Drive, sponsored in Mahoning County by the Mahoning County Medical Society in conjunction with the American Diabetes Association, will take place the week of November 17-23.

Diabetes detection and informational material has been delivered to the physicians' offices by members of the Woman's Auxiliary. They took the opportunity of their visits to pick up unwanted drug samples to be used for needy persons at home and abroad under their World Relief Program.

Dr. S. F. Gaylord, diabetes chairman, reminds all members to encourage diabetes tests during the week, to make tests without charge, to keep a record of the total tests and new positives, and to send the results to the Medical Society office for tabulation.

In addition to Dr. Gaylord, members of the Diabetes Week committee are: Dr. H. H. Ipp, Dr. W. R. Johnson, Dr. J. B. Stechschulte and Dr. M. M. Yarmy.

BULLETIN BOARD

Dr. S. F. Gaylord will address the Regional Meeting of the American College of Physicians at the University of Pittsburgh Medical School on November 22. He will give a paper discussing the use of the Gastrocamera and the Fibrocamera in visualizing and photographing the inside of the stomach. Attending the meeting will be specialists in Internal Medicine from Ohio, Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

EXTENDED CARE FACILITY

WHAT IS AN ECF?

The initials ECF are still new to our vocabulary, although we hear this term mentioned more and more frequently. ECF came with the innovation of Medicare and stands for Extended Care Facility. And now we are beginning also to hear more about extended care as Nursing Homes in the area become certified for Medicare and new ECF's are being built.

But an ECF is not just a nursing home! Whereas a nursing home may be certified for extended care under Medicare, an Extended Care Facility is a hospital whose greater percentage of beds is certified for Medicare—an institution providing skilled nursing care, with specialized equipment and services that are often needed following the acute phase of an illness requiring hospitalization.

WHAT MAKES AN ECF DIFFERENT FROM A NURSING HOME?

In order to be approved for participation in the Medicare program as an ECF, an institution must meet special requirements of the law.

1. It must provide 24 hour skilled nursing care.
2. It must provide restorative services including physical therapy, occupational therapy and speech therapy under the direction of licensed personnel.
3. It must provide a program of diversional activities.
4. It must provide professional dietary services.
5. Every patient admitted must be under the care of a private physician.

HOW MUST THE PATIENT QUALIFY FOR AN ECF?

The patient to be admitted to an ECF must also qualify for benefits under Medicare. It is not enough that his physician sign a certification form, he must be admitted to an ECF from a hospital within 14 days of his hospital discharge, having spent at least 3 days in the hospital. The Medicare program will participate in the cost of a patient's stay up to 100 days only if he qualifies in the following respects:

1. He must be under the care of his own private physician.
2. He must be admitted with the same diagnosis for which he was hospitalized.
3. He needs skilled nursing care or restorative services and rehabilitation up to a maximum of 100 days.

(If at any time either previous to admission or during the patient's stay at an ECF, a doctor questions whether his patient qualifies for this type of care, the administration can provide "Guidelines" as an aid for determining whether the patient is covered or non-covered for ECF confinement. It is recognized that a patient whose condition requires skilled treatment, skilled care or skilled observation may, after a short time, be re-evaluated either by his own physician, the intermediary who pays the bills, or the Utilization Review Committee of the institution. If, at that time he no longer qualifies, his ECF benefits will be terminated.)

WHAT IS THE DOCTOR'S RESPONSIBILITY?

The physician's responsibility, if a patient is to be qualified for ECF benefits, is most important and his full cooperation is needed. Under the new rules and regulations, a patient who expects to receive Medicare benefits may be disqualified and discharged from the ECF soon after admission if his physician has not done the following:

1. Ascertained before admission that he qualifies for Medicare. (Again, "Guidelines" are available for physicians to help in making this determination.)

2. Filled out completely the necessary forms for admissions.
3. Visits his patient at least once each month while he is a patient in the ECF.

It is the purpose of the ECF's in your community to continue to give your patient the excellent skilled care and treatment that he requires during his convalescence and rehabilitation; to open up bed space in the hospitals for the acutely ill and operative cases by providing the type of care that otherwise the hospital would be forced to give; to allow the patient to receive the same skilled care at a lower rate; and to serve the physician in helping to make possible the total recovery of his patient.

The Medical Dental Bureau will have a new paging system ready and going by early November. It will provide the doctor with instant voice messages anywhere within a 20-mile radius of downtown Youngstown.

Here's how the system works. A call for the doctor comes into the Medical-Dental Bureau message center. An operator there will relay the message by radio to the doctor. She does this by pressing buttons on a control console to transmit radio code signals to the individual radio receiver carried by the doctor. Then she speaks into a microphone and gives the actual message.

The person being contacted hears an alerting tone from a small transistorized unit which he carries with him. The unit is so small that it can be carried in a pocket or clipped to a belt. Having heard the tone, he then presses a button on the unit and hears the voice message. The system contacts only the person for whom the message is intended. The doctor then has received the complete message without having to rush to a phone to find out why he is wanted.

For further information on the new paging system, call the Medical Dental Bureau, 744-4513.

FROM THE BULLETIN THIRTY YEARS AGO — NOVEMBER 1938

Our Society hit the jackpot that month. Just read the imposing list of new members: Herman Ipp, G. E. DeCicco, Herbert Hutt, John Renner, Barclay Brandmiller, Joseph J. Sofranec, William E. Sovik and Alexander K. Phillips, all outstanding members.

The weekly lectures on "Treatment" by the Cleveland Clinic group were being published in condensed form in the Bulletin. Speaking on "Coronary Thrombosis" Carlton Ernestene said "After the pain and initial shock have been controlled, the majority of patients require little medication." Anticoagulants were not used those days. The most valuable mercurial diuretics used for congestive heart failure with edema were salyrgan and mercupurin given intravenously. They were quite painful given intramuscularly. Theocin was given by mouth in doses of 5 grains 3 times a day for three or four days followed by a rest period (to let the stomach quiet down).

Dr. J. H. Talbott of the Massachusetts General Hospital addressed the Society on "The Use Of The Chemical Laboratory In Diagnosis And Practice Of Medicine". Dr. Talbott led the group from the Harvard Fatigue Laboratory whose research work here in Youngstown in 1934 solved the problem of heat cramps in the mill workers. Dr. Talbott is now Editor of the Journal Of The AMA.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — NOVEMBER 1948

A leading article in that issue was written by John L. Scarnecchia on "Retrodiseplacements Of The Uterus". Dr. Scarnecchia received word in October of his election to fellowship in the American College of Surgeons.

Dr. Bryan Hutt passed his examinations successfully and was accredited by the American Board of Pediatrics. Dr. E. R. McNeal opened his office for the practice of internal medicine.

Dr. W. H. Bunn was elected President and Dr. R. B. Poling Vice President of the new Youngstown Heart Association.

Dr. W. J. Flynn became an active member of the Medical Society.

TEN YEARS AGO — NOVEMBER 1958

Editor Morris Rosenblum wrote: "The premise that physicians should adhere exclusively to the practice of medicine is outmoded. A doctor, like every other professional, business, trade or industrial worker has a debt of responsibility to take an active interest and working part in Civic and Community affairs".

Councilor Gustafson wrote: "Our Bulletin should be a medium to let members know what is going on. After reading the proceedings of Council I know very little more than if I had not read it. For instance, I'd like to know about the proposed venereal detection program and what we were asked to approve. I'd like to know what the Polio Committee has to report. What did the Pre-school Health Committee report? What are the arguments for and against hospital clinic space for electric shock treatments?"

Frank Gelbman had a very informative article on the Dangers And Complications Of Hypnosis.

The Polio Committee (Dr. Delfs) submitted a detailed report on the use of Salk Vaccine. Council endorsed the report and forwarded it to the Board of Health for action.

New members that month were Robert Warnock, Winifred Liu Mutschman, Julius Nemeth, Joseph Tandatnick, Henry Ellison, Curtis Fisher, John Hyland, Milton Lenhart, Samuel Petraglia and Arthur Whittaker.

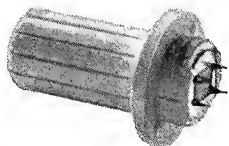

New members of the American College of Surgeons were Bert Katz, John Guju, Richard Murray, Cal Kunin and Ed Thomas. Alexander Calder opened his office on Glenwood Avenue.
